An Exclusive, Limited Edition Set. Only available from the London Mint Office

Standing on the Edge of History The Original Currency of Conquest

Reborn after 150 years

King Ferdinand of Spain to his New World explorers in 1511

AN EXCLUSIVE OFFER ONLY FOR SELECTED CUSTOMERS OF THE LONDON MINT OFFICE

- Be one of the first to own this historic first issue
- Struck to the highest quality Proof finish
- Strictly limited availability

Call today for more information on:

0808 164 4105

The Gold that changed the World. Issued for the first time in 150 years

"Get gold, humanely if you can, but at all costs, get gold"

PURE 24 CARAT GOLD

A Rare Document to History

The Royal Mint of Spain has recreated four iconic heraldic designs that once appeared on original Escudos.

"Few, if any, artifacts follow the history of mankind more closely than the coins that for 2,500 years have been used for trade and commerce, propoganda and art, by kingdoms, states and ecclesiastical magnates." Professor Svein H. Gullbekk

Reverse and the second	ONE ESCUDO 19mm 3.37g Mintage: 2.500	Based on a design struck in Colombia in 1759, the coin pays tribute to the abundance of gold that came out of the New World and transformed international trade forever.		 1536 – The first mint in the New World is opened in Mexico City. 1586 New coining machines installed at Segovia in Spain to process 	 1537 The gold Escudo is struck for the first time.
	TWO ESCUDO 23mm 6.75g Mintage: 2,000	The Spanish Doubloon was a favourite treasure of the pirate ships that attacked the Spanish galleons transporting the coins through the Caribbean and across the ocean.		gold received from the New World.16101732The largest gold coin of the New World, the Eight Escue is launched.17321749The first milled gold coins in the New World are struck in Mexico.17491799The last rough 'cob' coins are produced in the New World.1799During the 17th and 18th Centuries, 70 million gold coins are struck by Spanish mints in the New World.18331857Production of the gold Escudos ceases.18571864
	FOUR ESCUDO 30mm 13.5g Mintage 1,500	The design commemorates Philip II, the Spanish King who briefly ruled England for four years and later sent an Armada to take back control, only to be defeated at sea by the English fleet.			World. 1833 Production of the gold Escudos ceases.
	EIGHT ESCUDO 38mm 27g Mintage: 1,000	The largest gold coin of the New World, the Coat of Arms of Spain's longest reigning monarch Philip V depicts the Golden Fleece, the mythical treasure that Jason and the Argonauts searched distant lands to find in Greek mythology.		1868 _ The Escudo is replaced by the Pesata when Spain joins the Latin Monetary Union.	Spain relaunches the Escudo in silver as the official currency of Spain. 2018 The Royal Mint of Spain issues the world's first commemorative gold Escudo.

EXCLUSIVE TO THE LONDON MINT OFFICE – ONLY A LIMITED NUMBER OF COINS ARE AVAILABLE

• A rare opportunity to own the first year re-issue of the gold coin that changed international trade forever.

• The first official Escudos to be issued by The Royal Mint of Spain in 150 years.

• Featuring original Escudo designs recreated for 2018.

• Beautifully displayed in a deluxe presentation case with certificates of authenticity to guarantee their provenance.